Snow emergency declared in Borough of Middletown

Middletown Mayor James H. Curry III has declared snow emergency in the Borough, effective at 4:30 p.m., (Tuesday, February 4, 2014).

“We are scheduled to receive 2-4 or 3-6 inches of snow this evening, depending upon the news station,” said Mayor Curry, in declaring the emergency. “In addition, there will be an accumulation of ice up to 1/4 of an inch. In light of these forecasts, I wish to immediately declare a snow emergency.”

During a declared snow emergency, parking restrictions go into effect to facilitate the removal of snow from Borough streets. During such an emergency, it is unlawful to park on the north side of designated east-west streets or on the east side of designated north-south streets, unless otherwise indicated.

Once the snow has been removed from those parking areas, parking there becomes permissible as long there is no interference with the Borough snow removal crews and no interference with traffic during the remainder of the emergency.

All cars must be moved by 6:30 p.m. Vehicles still in the snow emergency routes after that time will be automatically ticketed.

“I will ensure an officer follows the plows from the Public Works Department to accomplish this goal,” Mayor Curry said.

A complete list of designated snow emergency route streets and parking restrictions is available on the Borough’s Web site at www.MiddletownBorough.com.
